#21 in a Series of Information Updates Preceding the 2011 IAUP Triennial

We are pleased to welcome The Council for Adult and Experiential Learning (CAEL) as a sponsor of the XVI International Association of University President's (IAUP) Triennial in New York City, June 17 – 20, 2011.

CAEL (www.CAEL.org) is the leader in connecting learning and work for adults. They advocate and innovate on behalf of adult learners, providing opportunities to access education, meaningful work, and economic security, and they support colleges and universities that wish to attract and graduate more adult students.

Learning Counts is an initiative of CAEL that helps students earn college credit for what they already know. Using a process called Prior Learning Assessment, working adults have their skills and competencies evaluated for college credit.

The 2011 IAUP Triennial will be held at the Marriot Marquis Hotel, directly overlooking Broadway and Times Square. In addition to keynote addresses and contributed papers from university presidents, the Triennial encourages small group discussions between chief executive officers and social networking. Registration for the Triennial and room reservations at the hotel can be made conveniently online at www.iauptriennial.org.

We are committed to making the New York City Triennial the most memorable in history for all participating presidents and their companions. We urge you to join us and take full advantage of the professional opportunities afforded by the Triennial as well as the sights, sounds, and culinary treats of New York City.
